► What is High Performance?

To us, high performance is not merely a different program, not a different name or positioning. It's the way of life. Where everyone wants to be pushed to the next level. Where everything you do, you do it to 100% of your abilities. Where "good enough" is "not good enough." Where people who do extra work do not stand out because everyone else is doing it as well. It's a lifestyle with no excuses and desire to become the best you can to unlock your full potential. We believe that it's the only way to achieve success in this long journey.

► And it's a long one indeed

Development time from 1st contact to peak performance on the tour

Developing a player is a long process. It takes 15-20 years to get to a world class level. In those 20 years your child will break hundreds sets of strings, spend thousands of hours on court and in a gym, travel hundreds of thousands of miles to hit millions of balls, a lot of which will not go in the court. There better be some planning involved! Thus every single step in your child's journey to excellence has to be supervised and planned in advance. Moreover, the first 5 years of development are the most important ones because they create a foundation for future success. However, in order for a player to stay on the right track and reach his or her full potential there has to be a special environment that spurs desire to become the best.

► The Environment

Being the leader in junior tennis development in Canada with over 35 years of experience we understand that children learn from what surrounds them. Hence we believe that creating the right environment is crucial in development of an athlete of any age, whether it is a 4 year old or someone who is already competing at the highest level. It is very important to surround yourself with coaches and other students who have the same goals. This creates maximum focus and minimum distraction in achieving them.

▲ Carmen Sandor, former WTA player, Penn State University graduate: "The NYTA has been a second home to me for nearly the last 15 years. In this time I've watched Tyler Prescott tirelessly work towards improving the program by bringing fresh ideas and new information on a consistent basis. His energy and passion for tennis as well as his desire to help his students achieve their national and international goals is contagious. There was nothing I looked forward towards more than my summers at NYTA. The ability to motivate and ignite a student's interest in the game is what makes NYTA unique and unparalleled in Canadian tennis."

Hard work and determination are a few qualities that he expects of me. He motivates me to become better each day and my success is a result of his coaching". Coaching Staff That Gets the Job Done

TYLER PRESCOTT Head Coach and Assistant Manager

Tyler Prescott - Director of Coaching

In order for the above mentioned environment to be productive there has to be a strong leader with proven success record and to make sure that every single element is working as it should. That person is Tyler Prescott.

Tyler is one of not so many coaches in Canada who consistently develops tennis players from playing OTA events to travelling all over the world and winning top tier ITF events.

In 2019/2020's Roger's Cup, Tennis Canada awarded Tyler with two awards - one award for coaching two players to national championship for the year and the second award for Coaching Excellence in Canada. No other coach in the country had taken home two awards that year. He was also the head coach of Team Ontario which, for the first time in 8 years won the Gold medal at the prestigious Canada Games 2013, with players who currently play on WTA and ATP tours. In 2017 Tyler was able to win team gold again, in addition to 7 other medals at the event. He won the Coaching Excellence award in 2012 and 2015 for developing a national champion.

With over 35 years of experience developing junior players Tyler understands and implements necessary priorities for every stage of development. In this way your children learn only what's important for their level. This helps tremendously to speed up the progress and save time that simply cannot be wasted. Tyler's passion goes beyond coaching tennis players. On a yearly basis he is involved in professional development courses with Tennis Canada. For many years Tyler facilitated the Coach 2 certifications. Tyler has completed his Coach 4 and is now a candidate for the Coach 5. He was also the U18 national coach for the OTA.

◀ Nathaniel Gery: "Tyler, and the NYTA, helped me develop and taught me the most important fundamentals of the game. Tyler's hard work and dedication is unparalleled. I am very grateful to have had the chance to train at such a great academy." Canada Games 2013

Holistic Approach

All our programs will follow the LTAD model from Tennis Canada and take holistic approach to development players. The focus will be on 4 major components of tennis:

4 major components of tennis

Depending on the level of athlete there will be different priorities on what to focus on. Our programs are designed with a player in mind, so that content will differ based on the development age.

Tyler Prescott, Director of Coaching:

“Developing a player is a long journey. Hence being demanding every day to minimize waste of time becomes paramount. That’s why at NYTA we take holistic approach when developing a tennis player and implement all four components of tennis in training. They’re like legs of a chair. If you don’t have one component the chair will fall off. All these components complement one another and it is what in the end makes a tennis player.”

The following tables provide a summary of all stages with respect to competition, training and recovery considerations for both women and men. As a competition stream player progresses, the training focus and competition intensity changes. It is important to note the shaded part of the table, this indicates the ideal window to develop the athletic foundation critical for excellence.
